Notes:

1. After receiving adviser's agreement, the student should fill in the form and submit four copies of thesis proposal to the department for further arrangement.
2. The thesis proposal defense committee consists of three members. Besides the student's thesis advisor or co-advisor, one member should be from another university, and the other is Wenzao's faculty member (an assistant professor or one who holds a higher academic position). The thesis advisor should present a list of recommended committee members twenty days prior to the defense date. The committee members will then be appointed under the agreement of the department chairperson.
3. The application deadline for thesis proposal defense is January 10th of the first semester or July 10th of the second semester.
4. Thesis proposal defense is held on January 31st of the first semester or July 31st of the second semester.
